INVESTIGATION CARD

After reading the book, you're probably been inspired to find your own poem. Go outside to your favorite park and use the scavenger hunt sheet to help you find things that could be poetry. Sometimes, having a seat in a beautiful spot and listening and observing everything around you can help strike a creative chord too. Use your 5 senses (minus taste) to get a feel for everything around you. Use your imagination and write a poem in your journal to express what you see, hear, smell, and feel. The magnifying glass can help you find inspiration from even the smallest of things. Read your poem to a friend or family member to share your experience!
