

nature

INVESTIGATION CARD

There are so many stars to see in the night sky it can feel overwhelming to even try. So let's start off with something to help guide your way! Create your own constellation scope using the QR code to start learning the different constellations. Next, find one constellation that sounds interesting and research the myths and history that go along with it. A new moon night far away from cities is the best time and place for stargazing. See if you are able to find any constellations in the sky. Hint: start with the Big Dipper to orient yourself and download StarTracker on your phone to aid in identifying constellations! Use your binoculars to look at stars and the moon!

BOOK # 17

By Jacqueline Mitton
ISBN-13 : 978-0792259350

Scan for more activities:

